About Graciela

I run my clinic from Caulfield, Victoria and use Colour Therapy extensively in my treatments. I enjoy working with young people, especially those facing the challenge of addiction. Esogetic Colour Therapy is a powerful tool when dealing with these issues.

I also use Colour Therapy to provide trauma support. I often deal with families who are needing help through a traumatic issue – for example, I supported families who experienced loss in the Malaysian Airlines tragedy.

I wrote my thesis in 2004 on Colour and its Therapeutic Uses. This body of work explored other complimentary therapists' experiences when using colour as a therapy, and made me look specifically into learning Esogetic Colourpuncture because of its fundamental successes.
