About Peter

There is a beautiful treatment in Colour Puncture Working with colour puncture since 1996, I have a fascination with colour and light. Colour puncture being a drug free, gentle, painless and non-invasive therapy has helped many of my clients, family and myself. Children also love the colour and lights and are happy to experience the treatments with positive improvement changes to follow.

The holistic approach of the Esogetic Medicine and the wide range of proven treatments have helped many of my clients and treatment results has never ceased to surprise me in recognising the healing power of colour & light.
